

Job Description for Executive in Residence in Real Estate / Professor of Real Estate Practice

Bucknell University's College of Management seeks a full-time executive in residence or Professor of real estate practice in real estate and real estate finance. The initial appointment may begin as early as Spring 2018 and last for two academic years. Reappointment is a possibility, subject to satisfactory performance.

The successful candidate will teach courses in real estate and lead efforts to develop co-curricular programs and student leading to robust real estate offerings for students across the University. Bucknell's strong alumni base offers numerous opportunities to foster industry engagement. The teaching load for the position is four courses per academic year.

A demonstrated commitment to teaching undergraduates is required. Qualified candidates will hold at least a master's degree in a relevant field and possess substantial professional experience (10+ years) in the real estate industry. We will accept applications on a rolling basis until the position is filled.

Bucknell's AACSB-accredited College of Management serves 550 students and offers innovative professional education in the context of one of the nation's leading liberal arts universities. The College is committed to diversity, inclusion, and student-centered pedagogy. The College's four major programs include: Accounting & Financial Management; Global Management; Managing for Sustainability; and Markets, Innovation & Design. The curriculum is available at <http://www.bucknell.edu/x61930.xml>.

In addition, the College of Management offers a Bachelor of Management for Engineers degree and an assortment of management electives to students across the University. In doing so we aim to address a pressing societal need for well-educated college graduates who understand the basic structures, operating mechanisms, and management principles governing businesses and other organizations. For a more detailed description of our College, please visit <http://www.bucknell.edu/Management>.

Bucknell University, an Equal Opportunity Employer, believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. We seek candidates who are committed to Bucknell's efforts to create a climate that fosters the growth and development of a diverse student body, and we welcome applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education.

Bucknell University is a highly selective, privately endowed comprehensive university offering baccalaureate degree programs to about 3400 undergraduates and master's degree programs to about 150 students. The University is located on a beautiful 450-acre campus in central Pennsylvania's Susquehanna Valley. New York City, Washington, D.C., Baltimore, and Philadelphia are each within a 3-1/2 hour drive of Lewisburg. For more information about Bucknell University see www.bucknell.edu.