

Assistant Professor Position in Urban Economics

The Economics Department at Syracuse University seeks to fill a tenure-track position at the Assistant level in urban economics. Candidates must have completed (or expect to complete prior to appointment) a Ph.D. in Economics. Preference will be given to individuals with research interests that are centered in the urban area but with possible spillovers to global perspectives and/or other areas of emphasis in the department, including public economics, labor economics and econometrics. The ideal candidates for this position are individuals who can provide guidance and advice to doctoral students, and who can help us staff Ph.D. and undergraduate classes in urban economics.

For a position description and application instructions, go to www.sujobopps.com #073509. Candidates must complete an online faculty application, attach a CV, application letter, current job market paper(s) and a list of professional references. Three letters of recommendation are required and will be requested directly from your references through our employment system. Please have an accurate email for each reference available to enter at the time of application. Minorities and Women are encouraged to apply. Syracuse University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Members of traditionally underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.