
Tenure Track Position in Real Estate

The College of Business and Economics at the University of Guelph invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor in the Department of Marketing and Consumer Studies. We are interested in candidates who specialize in a discipline related to real estate (such as Finance or Economics) or in a research area such as sustainability and urban planning with obvious real estate applications, with a strong preference for real estate finance. Applicants should have (or be near completion of) a Ph.D. The appointment start date is flexible.

The person hired for this position will be responsible for teaching, pursuing scholarly research, and service. In terms of teaching, preference will be given to those who have teaching experience or are interested to teach in the areas related to finance (such as appraisal, development or investment analysis) or sustainability. Whatever an applicant's discipline, preference will be given to those with work experience or knowledge of Canadian residential, commercial, industrial or retail real estate and Canadian institutions.

The Department of Marketing and Consumer Studies is in the University's College of Business and Economics (<https://www.uoguelph.ca/business/>). We offer two Bachelor of Commerce majors (one in Marketing Management and one in Real Estate and Housing), an M.Sc. and Ph.D. (in Marketing and Consumer Behaviour). More information about the Department can be found at www.uoguelph.ca/mcs/. The University of Guelph is a top-ranked comprehensive university in Canada located in Guelph, Ontario (which has a population of over 130,000 and is a one-hour drive west of Toronto, Canada). The University of Guelph is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to high-quality research and to active student engagement. To be complete, applications must include a curriculum vitae, a list of teaching interests, recent teaching evaluations, a research agenda for the next three years and a sample of recent scholarly work. (Please submit as pdf files.) We also ask applicants to have confidential letters of recommendation sent to us from three referees separately using the email address below. Representatives from the Department will attend the ASSA meetings in January 2018.

For early consideration, please apply by Nov. 30. Applications should be submitted electronically to Tirtha Dhar, Interim-Chair, mcsappln@uoguelph.ca
