

3rd Annual PhD Conference on Real Estate and Housing

It is our pleasure to invite your submissions to the 3rd Annual PhD Conference on Real Estate and Housing, which takes place on May 16-17, in Columbus, OH. The conference is specifically intended as a platform to showcase and develop the work of doctoral students through constructive discussions and sharing of ideas. PhD students whose papers are selected for presentation will be provided with a hotel room and have the opportunity to apply for a financial package to help cover the costs of travel. A best paper prize will also be awarded.

TOPICS: The PhD Conference on Real Estate and Housing program committee welcomes draft paper submissions from doctoral students examining a wide array of real estate and housing topics related to policy, practice and theory.

Submissions may address issues including, but not limited to:

- real estate finance and economics • housing and community development
- urban and regional economics • housing affordability
- housing policy • real estate law

We invite studies from all disciplines including finance, business, public policy, sociology, economics, urban planning, geography, demographics, law, criminology, and public health.

PAPER SUBMISSION: Submissions must consist of unpublished draft research papers that may be single-authored, or co-authored with faculty or other students. The deadline for proposal submissions is Feb 8, 2019. Accepted authors will be given an opportunity to revise their draft prior to final paper submission deadline on April 30, 2019. Please submit your proposals via the conference portal or through the conference website.
