

Special Issue on 'Global Real Estate'

---

Global Finance Journal
Call for Papers

Special Issue: Global Real Estate

Guest Editor: *David Ling,

McGurn Professor of Real Estate

Hough Graduate School of Business, University of Florida

This special issue solicits original research papers dealing with commercial real estate. For this special issue we will consider manuscripts that address a broad set of issues dealing with global commercial real estate, including, but not limited to:

- International and cross-border capital flows and effects on pricing and returns
- Role of global real estate in a mixed-asset portfolio
- Real estate price index methodology and performance measurement
- Leverage, capital structure and commercial real estate
- Economics of sustainability in commercial real estate
- Structure and performance of private equity real estate funds
- Industrial organization issues for global REITs including executive compensation, board structure, operating and capital expenditures, and property type or geographic focus/concentration
- Understanding the valuation and return performance of REIT-like structures
- The structure, valuation, and performance of commercial mortgage-backed securities

Interested authors should submit through the journal's website

<http://www.journals.elsevier.com/global-finance-journal/> and designate the submission for the Special Issue on "Global Real Estate" in the cover letter.

Submission Deadline: November 1, 2017

Author Notification Date: January 31, 2018